NORTHERN CHIHUAHUA TO BE POLICED BY APPROXIMATELY 10,000 MEN.

COWBOYS KILL 15 MARAUDERS

Employees of Hearst Ranch Make Quick Work of Gang Robbers Near Madera—Both Leaders Among Slain.

COLUMBIA, N. M.—Preparations for the policing of Northern Chihuahua by approximately 10,000 men, composing a protective patrol of the Mexican border, are progressing rapidly here. All movements of troops and reports from Gen. Pershing's expeditionary column were guarded, however, by stringent censorship.

At military headquarters every effort was made to prevent the slightest leaking of the general plan of redistributing the American troops in Mexico.

Namiquipa, it is said, is to be most southerly of the American chain of bases.

Movements of Carranza troops throughout Northern Chihuahua also continued.

Mexican Bandits Killed.

Field Headquarters, Mexico.—Twenty-five cowboys from the Hearst ranch at Madera broke and scattered a newly formed gang of bandits near Madera, killing 15, wounding one and capturing six, according to news reaching Gen. Pershing's headquarters here.

The bandits had been organized by Alvarado Dominguez and Pedro Castillo, who announced their enmity for Americans and adherents of Carranza. Following the theft of a number of horses from the Hearst ranch, they began a guerrilla warfare.

Employees of the ranch surprised the bandits in camp near Rancho Viejo. The six taken prisoners were delivered to Carranza authorities in Madera.

Among the dead were Dominguez and Castillo, the toll bringing the number of Villa followers slain since the American punitive expedition was sent across the border up to nearly 250.

The cowboys captured 20 horses, a number of rifles and other loot.

ANOTHER BODY AIDS NEW CONSTITUTION

DRUMMERS CIRCULATE PETITION FOR NEW INSTRUMENT FOR MISSOURI.

HELPING TEACHERS OF STATE

Present Document Written in Days of Reconstruction Does Not Permit High Degree of Progress or Development.

Jefferson City.

A resolution favoring a convention to frame a new constitution for Missouri that will answer the needs of modern progress, adopted by the Missouri Teachers' Association in convention recently, has been forwarded to the Missouri State Teachers' Association. The association resolved "that the present constitution of Missouri, written, as it was, in post-bellum days, when the state was yet in the throes of sectional feeling and before the present stage of progress and development was fairly begun, is inadequate as the fundamental of the state."

The association also expressed its commendation of the Missouri State Teachers' Association in its move ment to bring about such a convention.

Oregon Falls to Choose Major.

With 50 per cent of the vote cast in Oregon's statewide primary election counted and with all but four of the 25 counties heard from, it becomes apparent that of the nearly 10,000 Republican votes cast, Charles E. Hughes received a clear majority over all other presidential candidates of approximately 15,000. His plurality over Senator Albert B. Cummins, will be approximately 25,000, while Senator Cummins has received more than 20,000 as many votes as former Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio.

The vote received by Col. Roosevelt for the Republican nomination was negligible, although he received the vote of the Progressives as its nominee.

Democratic, the state over, appeared to have voted unanimously for President Wilson. Vice President Marshall was an easy victor over Gov. Elliott W. Major of Missouri, as the Democratic choice for vice president.

Crossley Files.

Wallace Crossley of Warrensburg, a state senator, filed his declaration for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. Two others have filed, these being Philip McCullom of St. Joseph and Joseph J. Critch of Rolla.

Other candidates who have filed are N. A. Mosley, Bloomfield, Republican, for judge of the Springfield court of appeals; John A. Whitelaw of Kalkaska, Democrat, for congress from the first district; A. B. Warner of Kirksville, Progressive, for secretary of state; Arch Johnson of Springfield, Democrat, for judge of the Springfield court of appeals; J. Kelly Poff, Centralia, Democrat, for secretary of state.

State's Mineral Output.

According to figures from national authority Southwestern and Central Missouri produced about 83 per cent of the lead output of the central states. The region produced 16 per cent of the lead and 78 per cent of the zinc of the central states in 1915, and was much the largest producer of zinc in the United States, yielding 28 per cent of the total zinc production from domestic ores, against 38 per cent in 1914.

The value of the mine output of recoverable silver, copper, lead and zinc in Missouri for the year 1915 was nearly $62,700,000, against $25,300,000 in 1914.

Student Rescues Girl.

Bryan Hints at Prohibition.

That William Jennings Bryan may attempt to write a prohibition plank into the Democratic platform to be drawn up in St. Louis was shown in an address before the one hundred and twenty-eighth assembly of the Presbyterian Church on the subject of temperance.

Investigation Hurled Resignation. Dr. D. E. Morrow, who resigned as secretary of the Barnes Dental College of the National University, admitted his action "was hastened" because of the statewide investigation of credit faking by dental students, being conducted by the state board of dental examiners.

The former secretary said he resigned sooner than he had intended "that harmony might not be broken in the college." He added he had been contemplating resigning for some time because of ill health.

State Leases Game Farm.

Missouri's experiment in game propagation has ended, and the farm closed when the land was leased to a neighboring farmer.

The game farm was opened in 1911 when Jesse A. Tolerton was the state game and fish commissioner. Tolerton conceived the idea that the game supply of the state could be greatly augmented by the propagation of English pheasants and Hungarian partridges.

Pheasants by the thousands were raised for two years and scattered over the state and thousands of Hungarian partridges were imported and distributed. Today it is doubtful if 500 of the pheasants are alive in Missouri and nothing is ever heard of a Hungarian partridge.

Failure of the experiment has been attributed to the ruthless slaughter of the birds by hunters and the fact that they were not intended by nature for the environment in which they were placed. They were destroyed by hawks, foxes, mink and other marauders. Perhaps $60,000 was expended. The money was raised from the sale of hunters' licenses.

How Missourians Signed Up.

The 41,500 signatures obtained to the petitions for the constitutional amendment entering the Gardner land bank bill were obtained from the congressional districts as follows:

First, 2,975; second, 2,700; third, 2,200; fourth, 1,850; fifth, 4,444; seventh and eighth, 2,450; ninth, 2,550; eleventh and twelfth, 4,112; thirteenth, 2,450; fourteenth, 4,444; fifteenth, 3,050; sixteenth, 2,350.

If the proposed amendment passes, an appropriation of $1,000,000 is to be made by the state to start the bank. As soon as loans of $500,000 are made to the farmers on their lands, debenture bonds, bearing 4 1/2 per cent interest, will be issued and sold to investors to reimburse the state. A second loan of $500,000 then is to be made and bonds issued again to that amount. In this way the state treasury will be reimbursed immediately. The state electors, voters are to be the board of directors of the bank with the bank commissioner as president.

New Frisco Plan.

An examination of the new Frisco reorganization plan, which came by mail to the public service commission, reveals that it is so much like the last amended plan rejected by the commission that it is difficult to distinguish the differences.

The voting trust, which the public service commission said was unconstitutional, is retained in the new plan with increased powers and the same men are named as voting trustees.

Lumber Concerns Cited.

An order was made by the supreme court on June 10 to the directors and other officers of four of the pine lumber companies that have refused to pay their taxes for violating the anti-trust laws.

The citations are against the Bradley Lumber Company which was fined $50,000; Colonial Lumber Company, $10,000; Hogg Harris Lumber Company, $5,000; and the Van Cleave Lumber Company, $5,000.

Attorney General Barker alleges the companies conspired to prevent the state from collecting the fines.

Through Assistant Attorney General Lee B. Ewing, the appointment of a referee in the case of each company is asked. There will be named later.

Williams Addresses Teachers.

At a meeting of county superintendents and teachers held at over the state address, made by Walter Williams, dean of the state school of superintendents, former state superintendent of public schools, W. F. Evans, president of the Missouri Teachers' Association, and Secretary of State Rehn, who rural schools received much attention from the speakers.

New Constitution Needed.

There is no mistake in the sentiment of the sentiment that predominant among the members of the county superintendents of schools convention in session last week.

The school men and women want a new constitution for Missouri, and they will stand as a body in favor of such a proposition. The restrictive features of the present constitution, they agree, is against adequate development of the public school system, especially the rural schools.

"Moonlight Schools" Urged.

The county superintendents of education just before adjournment went on record as favoring the organization of "moonlight schools" to correct illiteracy, which in some Missouri counties ranges as high as 15 per cent. The average for the entire state is 4.3 per cent.

Thomas J. Walker, rural school inspector, states there are 111,000 illiterates in the state.

Judge Norton to Run for Senate. Judge Albert D. Norton of St. Louis has filed his official declaration with the secretary of state as Progressive candidate for the United States senate.

Nation Takes Up Land Bank. The Glass rural credits bill, providing for a federal farm loan board and a system of 12 land banks, passed the lower house of congress by a vote of 295 to 10. The senate had already passed a similar measure. Both bills are patterned after Missouri's law.

HUNTED BANDITS WOUND TROOPER

LAUNCHES BODY OF DE FACTO SOLDIERS IS NO PROTECTION TO OUR MEN.

MEN PERHAPS CARRANZISTAS

Squad Returns Fire of Attackers and Nothing is Known of Results—Troops Farther South Than Has Been Supposed.

Rancho Providencia, Chihuahua, Mexico.—Bandits are again active, though being hunted persistently by a detachment of American cavalry in spite of the presence in the country of a large body of Carranza troops, a detachment of American cavalry numbering 15 men, was attacked while patrolling the Mexico Northwestern Railroad a few miles south of Temohachic, which is southeast of Madera.

One American was wounded. The casualties among the bandits are not known. After firing in answer to a volley fired by the bandits the Americans retreated, owing to overwhelming numbers of the enemy.

A small group of Mexicans is falling in behind the American columns as they move northward, always keeping out of sight, but telling the natives that they are chasing the "gringos" from Mexican soil. They stop whenever the Americans halt and hide or disarm if Gen. Pershing's men approach them.

Men Perhaps Carranzistas.

Two suppositions are prevalent regarding the identity of these men. One is that they are Carranzistas, trying to give the American movement the appearance of a retreat. The other is that they are bandits, seeking to annoy the Americans by sniping. The latter conjecture is the more favored.

This is the first information received recently that American soldiers were stationed so far to the south. All reports have placed their southernmost point at Namiquipa, which is a considerable distance to the north of Temohachic, from which it is also separated by a range of the Sierra Madres.

New York City.—Fred Schuma, Caudet of this city, the inventor of "gasofium," a substitute for gasoline, which it is said can be sold for less than 10 cents a gallon, has arranged for a public demonstration of the efficiency of his product in front of the city hall.
